

BRANNON WONG (KAISER HIGH SCHOOL - Class of 2008)

Throughout my several years of playing Ikaika Basketball, I have gained the insight that winning doesn't come easy it's a reward that you have to earn through hard work and dedication. These words also hold true during fundraisers when your time and effort earn you a chance to be financially secure for the team trips.

Overall, Ikaika has been a great experience for me in a sense that it has prepared me for college; I got a chance to experience independence during the neighbor island and mainland trips. The relationships I have created with others on this team are relationships I hope to bring with me into the future. In the end, the amount of perspiration is grueling, but the rewards are spectacular.
